

“At first they were not a story, just pictures”
Story Quest Writers’ Workshop at Mythcon

This drawing, by Bonnie Callahan, is the bait to lure stories from writers, not to illustrate a story already written. What can it mean, the youth in the headdress (or is it a youth?) following the intrepid cat up the winding staircase into the sculpted crags? It is for you to imagine. Write your story & bring it to the Writers’ Workshop at Mythcon. Stories responding to the illustration will be the material for the workshop.

Gwenyth E. Hood, Editor, Mythic Circle and workshop leader

